

KOKODA TRACK MEMORIAL WALKWAY

JOIN US AND BECOME A Friend of Kokoda

The Kokoda Track campaign marks one of the most significant battles for Australians in the Second World War and an important part of our history. Today, the Kokoda Track Memorial Walkway has attained a unique stature among our war memorials.

Framed by a canopy of rainforest vegetation to emulate the Owen Stanley Ranges of New Guinea, this living memorial offers visitors with a unique opportunity to learn about the sacrifices made by our servicemen in the defence of our country.

Magnificent granite walls etched with images by wartime correspondent Damien Parer surround a memorial centrepiece with gently cascading waters that create a quiet sanctuary for reflection and contemplation.

The memorial also acts as an immersive educational experience with informative resources along the Walkway and at the Ralph Honner Education Centre. It has undoubtedly become an important historical link for current and future generations.

Your support of the Kokoda Track Memorial Walkway will help to maintain and preserve this beautiful memorial for the benefit of our whole community and importantly honour the memory of those brave men who gave their lives in defence of our country.
